

I do not want to see LPFM stations take priority over current FM translator services. The services offered by K-LOVE, a national Christian broadcasting service that offers programming in my community using FM translators, is very important to me. I always listen to K-LOVE in my own community, and when traveling, intentionally search for this station for a family oriented music to listen to. K-LOVE provides me an important, consistent message that other Christian broadcasting stations do not. Due to the cost of providing quality radio broadcasting, it is important that local, small communities, such as mine have access (through translator stations) to quality programming. I feel my opportunity to hear quality Christian music and programming would be lessened if you give LPFM stations priority over translator services such as K-LOVE and ask that you not do so.
